in St. Louis last September. Then short speeches were made by distinguished Baptists of each of the three entions touching the questions as they had been presented by the two spokesmen. The venerable chairman, Dr. Gambrell, exhibited such patience and forbearance that made his example an inspiration to present; and as such every member was allowed to have his say without intimidation or sarcastic reflection, whether they were wise sane, logical or illogical, they were free, felt free and so spoke. When all the superfluous "Gas," as it was kindly the styled by the chairman, had been exappointment of a sub-committee to and at 1:30 the commission took recess to reassemble at four o'clock So, intensely interested were the visitors that many of them did not go to their regular stopping places for dinner, but remained in and near the church, some buying fruit and others doing without. Promptly at the hour of four Dr. Gambrell called the Commission to order and opened the session with prayer by Dr. B. J. A., commending the splendid work it has done and is doing among the soldiers, saying, among other things, that it was the only practical thing to be done under the circumstances to use them as an agent to help keep up the morale of the soldiers over the seas and in the camps, especially after the regulations which discontinue the employment and use of camp pastors, for the Y. M. C. A. did a work that could not and would not have been done by pastors of the various denominations. However, he said that Baptists had maintained camp pastors at a number of the camps it had been his pleasure, yea his joy to work with some of the colored camp pastors. He made special mention of Dr. C. H. Parrish of Louis ville, Ky., who served in that capacity for seven months, and in one of their meetings he preached from a high platform and after he had preached Dr. Parrish extended an invitation to the colored men which numbered eight or nine hundred, to accept Christ, and so many responded that he could not count them.
